A brief introduction to turbulence

Prof. Xing Wei (魏星)

Beijing Normal University

Xing Wei is a professor at BNU Astronomy and works on theoretical astrophysics, especially astro fluid. He studied at Tsinghua and Cambridge. Before joining BNU he worked at ETH, Gottingen, Princeton and SJTU.

Abstract

I will talk about the basics of turbulence at the undergraduate level and focus on the physical pictures. I will also discuss about my recent work of planetary magnetic fields.

All are welcome ! Tea and coffee will be served at 2:15 PM.
